Lesson times and courses for 2010 are in hours. This is easy to understand and students like it!

1 Homelingua lesson = 1 hour

- Specialised exam courses
- English for Academic Purposes for Young Learners
- Superior accommodation option
- Young Child option for Young Learners aged 11-13
- Personalised end-of-course Progress Report for all students
- High quality apartment accommodation in Oxford + one-to-one tailor made language course

About home tuition

- Total immersion in the language and isolation from your mother tongue
- Study from just one week, or just a 'crash course' over a few days
- An effective and enjoyable learning process
- Maximum opportunity to use and listen to the language outside the classroom
- Tailor made language course to meet your needs

About Homelingua

- Homelingua is British Council Accredited and a member of English UK
- We work with our teachers directly and not through a network of local organisers
- We are an experienced team of ELT professionals

About our teachers

- Homelingua teachers are all ELT qualified (minimum CELTA qualification) or equivalent
- Accommodation is inspected by an experienced member of the Homelingua team
- Many of our teachers qualify in ELT after careers in other professions, bringing years of personal and life experience to their teaching

Locations

- Over 120 teachers in locations across the UK including the following areas: Brighton, Hastings, Bath, Cheltenham, London, Oxford, Cambridge, London, Stratford-upon-Avon, Edinburgh
- Please note that most teachers do not live in a city centre, but can be reached by public transport

Homelingua Young Learner courses

The fee includes reasonable costs incurred by the student and teacher during study activities and excursions outside of the classroom. The student is expected to pay the cost of specially requested activities and excursions. The fee does not include the cost of refreshments, entrance fees or excursions taken outside of lessons (eg visit to the cinema, bowling etc)

Young Child supplement

There is a supplement of £300 per week for students age 11-13. The student fee for 11-13 year old students includes all reasonable costs of excursions and activities during and after lessons. The student is expected to pay the cost of specially requested activities and excursions.

Depending on the airline used, students aged 16 and younger will usually require a meet-and-greet or guardian service at the airport on arrival and departure. Homelingua can arrange this at additional cost.
