

Course fees 2012

1 Homelingua lesson = 1 hour

About home tuition

- Total immersion in the language and isolation from your mother tongue
- Study from just one week, or just a 'crash course' over a few days
- An effective and enjoyable learning process
- Maximum opportunity to use and listen to the language outside the classroom
- Tailor made language course to meet your needs

About Homelingua

- Homelingua is British Council Accredited and a member of English UK
- We work with our teachers directly and not through a network of local organisers
- We are an experienced team of ELT professionals

About our teachers

- Homelingua teachers for adult students are ELT qualified (minimum CELTA qualification) or equivalent
- Homelingua teachers for Young learners are QTS qualified (UK State school qualification) or ELT qualified (minimum CELTA qualification) or equivalent
- Accommodation is inspected by an experienced member of the Homelingua team
- Many of our teachers qualify in ELT after careers in other professions, bringing years of personal and life experience to their teaching

Locations

- Over 250 teachers in locations across the UK including the following areas: Brighton, Hastings, Bath, Cheltenham, London, Oxford, Cambridge, Stratford-upon-Avon, Edinburgh
- Please note that most teachers do not live in suburbs and not city centres. We also have teachers who live in smaller towns and villages.

Course start and finish dates

Students arrive to the teacher's home on a Sunday and leave on a Saturday. Other arrival dates may be arranged if available.

Lessons

Lessons are 60 minutes in duration.

Homelingua Young Learner courses

The fee includes reasonable costs incurred by the student and teacher during study activities and excursions outside of the classroom. The student is expected to pay the cost for the student and teacher of specially requested activities and excursions.

Young Child supplement

There is a supplement of £300 per week for students age 11-13. The student fee for 11-13 year old students includes all reasonable costs of excursions and activities during and after lessons. The student is expected to pay the cost of specially requested activities and excursions.

Depending on the airline used, students aged 16 and younger will usually require a meet-and-greet or guardian service at the airport on arrival and departure. Homelingua can arrange this at additional cost.
